

SANTA MONICA

A T A S A U N T E R

During prohibition, this Art Deco gem sequestered the likes of Clark Gable and Carole Lombard. Its former speakeasy has gone respectable as the breakfast room.

The Georgian's prime location on Ocean Avenue, smack-dab in the middle of Santa Monica's best walking area, facilitates car-free wanderings. Windows facing the ocean also overlook Palisades Park, where palm trees shade an endless parade of in-line skaters, joggers, and cyclists.
