

SANTA BARBARA'S

new Spanish inn

IF YOU'RE TRAVELING to Santa Barbara, you can now enjoy Old World charm in the middle of downtown. Styled after the Spanish colonials in one of the city's oldest neighborhoods, the new Inn of the Spanish Garden is just steps away from Santa Barbara's finest restaurants, theaters, financial district and historical Presidio. Each of the 23 rooms, which run $225 to $395, has a fireplace, deep bathtub, Frette linens and private garden or balcony. The lap pool and fitness center are adjacent to the inn's gorgeous garden, yet you're just five minutes from pristine beaches and sunset cruises along the Pacific Ocean's azure edge.
